DISCUSSION ON DRINKING WATER

Subject to be Studied by Medical Men.

At Meeting of County Medical Society In Library Tomorrow Afternoon Interesting Talks Will Be Made Regarding Sources of Water Supply—A Subject of Interest—Luncheon to Follow Discussion.

The Guilford County Medical Society will hold another meeting for the purpose of discussing questions relating to public health. The October meeting was devoted to the subject of hookworm, a matter of such vast importance to the South that John D. Rockefeller gave a million dollars for the purpose of studying the nature of the disease and how to cure it. This meeting was very large and enthusiastic, not only the physicians of the county attended almost to a man, but many physicians from other counties who were interested in the subject, besides a large number of influential citizens were present.

The November meeting, which will be held Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock, will be devoted entirely to the study of drinking water, and the appended program is an omen of the good things in store for that occasion.

The subject of drinking water will be ably discussed by a number of eminent gentlemen whose duties bring them into intimate relations with this important and absolute essential to our existence as individuals and as a community—drinking water.

The program committee have been fortunate in securing Dr. W. S. Rankin, secretary of the State Board of Health, than whom there is no one better prepared to discuss this question and to give a bird's eye view of what is being done throughout the State to purify and make wholesome the various sources of water supply.

Dr. D. A. Stanton, of High Point, secretary of the State Medical Society, has given much attention to the conservation of the water resources of the State and will give much light on this question.

There is no man in the community better known than Dr. Edmund Harrison, city superintendent of health, who will have something interesting to say on well water, while Dr. A. F. Fortune, county superintendent of health, will give a comprehensive view of the water supply throughout the county.

Dr. W. P. Knight, of White Oak, will discuss the question of bored wells as a safeguard against disease, having had ample opportunity of observing the effects of this kind of water supply in his community.

Dr. W. J. McAnally, member of the High Point Board of Health, will read an interesting paper on the diseases which may be contracted from infected drinking water.

The society and the public are to be congratulated on the fact that Mr. W. T. Sergeant, chairman of the Water and Light Commission, will give a detailed account of the water supply of this city.

The meeting will be held in the Carnegie Library after which a luncheon will be served in the Sunday School Annex of West Market Street church which is adjoining the library.

The program follows:
2 p. m.—Business Session.
Exhibition of Clinical Cases.
2:30 p. m.—What the State Is Doing for Protection of Public Water Supplies.
W. S. Rankin, M. D., secretary State Board of Health, Raleigh.

FETE IN FLOWERLAND

Seats on Sale Today—Miss Moorman To Participate.

By a special request Miss Moorman the talented reader, who is directing the Fete in Flowerland, has consented to give impersonations. Of her work the Lynchburg News says:

"Miss Moorman gives to her selections a peculiar force and expression, and makes them find a lodgment in the hearts and minds of her auditors. Being tall and graceful and possessing a musical voice, she at once wins the closest attention, and the expressive manner in which she presents her subjects leaves a deep impression. In the more serious as well as in the humorous and sentimental, she is thoroughly at home, and is just as effective in the difficult passages as in the simple lines. Miss Moorman, in her readings, has probably no equal on the Southern platform."

The Asheville Citizen says:
"Miss Moorman is an elocutionist whose talents show careful training, and her recall on more than one occasion was indicative of the audience's appreciation of ability as well as the pleasing presence of the fair reader."

LUCK COMES IN OLD AGE

Civil War Veteran's Ownership of Farm Slipped His Memory.

Pekin, Ill., Nov. 1.—Filing a soldier's claim to a farm of 160 acres in Saline County, Michigan, forty-four years ago and then forgetting all about it, only to be reminded today that he still owned it and asking him to place a cash valuation upon it, was the unusual experience of Sam Ross, who is a crossing flagman for the Big Four in Pekin.

He was surprised to receive a letter from C. L. Hubbard, a lawyer, of Springfield, Ohio, asking him to name his price for the farm. Ross remembered that a soldier comrade asked him to go to Michigan to file a claim after the Civil War, but Ross was unable to go and induced his friend to file for him. The incident slipped his mind.

It is believed that the land has valuable mineral resources or the ownership would not be traced in this manner. Ross will make a visit to his farm and will investigate the value before fixing a price. The acquisition of this property in his old age is a rare piece of luck.

VERDICT FOR PROPOUNDERS.

Will of Jas. Kirkpatrick, Deceased, To Remain As Written—A Damage Suit.

In Guilford Superior Court yesterday morning the jury in the case entitled, In the matter of the will of Jas. Kirkpatrick, deceased, returned a verdict in favor of the propounders, Mrs. T. A. Armstrong and Mr. J. J. Power, of this city. The caveators, Mrs. D. W. Miller and Mr. T. W. Kirkpatrick, sought to break the will on the ground that the deceased was not of sound mind at the time the document was signed.

The next case taken up was that of Mary Phillips Richmond vs. the North Carolina Railroad Company. The plaintiff is seeking to recover damages in the sum of $5,000. The testimony in the case was concluded yesterday and the case will go to the jury this morning.

BALLOT SEVEN FEET LONG

South Dakota Voters Must Wrestle With Biggest Folder Yet.

Sioux Falls, S. D., Nov. 1.—The voters of South Dakota at the election of November 8 will have submitted to them the longest ballot to be voted in any State in the Union.

The ballot will measure more than seven feet, and will contain proposed laws which are to be submitted to the voters under the referendum amendment to the State Constitution. It will be 14 inches in width and filled from top to bottom with closely printed nopparel type, one of the proposed laws alone filling more than two feet of the ballot.

Special ballot-boxes have been manufactured for the larger voting precincts.

Crippen Appeal Postponed.

London, Nov. 1.—Upon application of his counsel today the hearing by the criminal court of appeals of the appeal of Dr. Hawley H. Crippen, under sentence of death for the murder of his actress wife, Belle Elmore, was postponed to November 5.

CAMPAIGN HAS BEEN LAUNCHED

To Improve Health of Children of County.

Pupils of Public Schools of County Will Be Examined by Physicians and All Defects Pointed Out to Parents—County Superintendent Foust Being Aided by Members of County Medical Society.

The campaign to improve the physical condition of the pupils of the public schools of Guilford County was launched yesterday when Drs. Battle, Little, Fortune, Norman and Ledbetter accompanied County Superintendent Foust to the Pomona Graded school and examined the three hundred pupils in that institution of learning.

The physicians paid especial attention to symptoms of adenoids and hookworm. It was most encouraging to note that out of the entire number not more than fifty or sixty showed symptoms of either disease. And it was noticeable that a majority of this number came from the smaller classes. The parents of the children suspected of having either disease will be notified and the trouble can easily be remedied. In notifying the parents the physicians will emphasize the necessity of curbing the disease at once as it will gain a stronger hold the longer the conditions are allowed to remain unmolested.

It will be remembered that at the last meeting of the Guilford County Medical Society it was decided to assist the County Board of Education in every way possible in exterminating the hookworm from the county as it was felt that this could only be done through educational lines. Accordingly a resolution was passed pledging the support and assistance of the society to the county superintendent in all work looking to this end.

The question of having physicians accompany the county superintendent to the several schools in the county and examine the pupils was also discussed and met with the hearty endorsement of both the doctors and Supt. Foust. The first work was done yesterday, as is outlined above, and it is the intention of those interested to have the pupils of every school in the county inspected. At some of the larger schools there will be lectures on the necessity of the children being in the best physical condition if they are to grasp their studies as they should.

It is believed that by examining the pupils and acquainting the parents with the ailments of their children great good can be accomplished for it will have a tendency to cause the parents to take greater interest in the health of their children and thus bring about a reformation along sanitary lines throughout the entire county.

Overman At High Point Tonight.

County Chairman Sherrill received a message last night from United States Senator Lee S. Overman, stating that he would speak at High Point tonight. For some time an effort has been made to secure Mr. Overman for High Point, but no definite answer could be secured. Last night the Senator spoke at Lexington and he was again wired by Mr. Sherrill asking if he could speak in High Point, the above answer being received. The High Point Democrats will no doubt give him a rousing reception tonight. The speaking, which will begin at 8 o'clock, will likely take place in Pickett's warehouse. Senator Overman speaks at Proximity tomorrow night.

ROUSING SPEECH BY GOV. GLENN

Heard by an Immense Crowd Last Night.

The Court House Crowded to Capacity With People and Former Chief Executive Was Heartily Applauded—Tariff Question Handled With Gloves Off—Told Why Republicans Want Legislature and Supreme Court—Predicts Victory.

One of the largest crowds that has greeted any political speaker in Greensboro this fall gathered at the court house last night to hear ex-Gov. R. B. Glenn. Every seat was taken while fully a hundred stood around the side aisles of the room. The speaker was given close attention and time and again he received liberal applause as he dealt telling blows against the enemy's bulwark—the tariff wall.

The speaking began at 8 o'clock, Mr. T. J. Murphy introducing the speaker. Gov. Glenn first predicted great Democratic victories this fall and gave his reasons for so doing. Throughout the entire country the Republicans are divided, he said, while the Democrats are united as they have not been in years. He then hopped on the tariff question with gloves off and his explanation of the question was as simple as it was forcible. He said the people of the State pay $3,000,000 in taxes to support the State government and institutions. And at the same time they pay annually $20,000,000 to the National government indirectly through the tariff tax. Were this tax imposed directly the people would not stand for such injustice a minute, he said.

He wanted the great trusts that had grown under the protecting care of high tariff to sell their products to the American people just as low as they sold the same articles abroad. The home people bear the brunt of keeping out foreign competition and should be favored as much as the foreigner he declared. We are buying in the highest market in the world and selling in the lowest, said the speaker. He spoke of the small tax on luxuries, while necessities are taxed practically double their value.

Another thing he pointed out quite plainly was the fact that while the tariff is imposed, as Republicans say, to furnish revenue for every $5 or $8 the private consumer pays extra because of the tariff the trusts gobble up $4 or $5 of this amount and the remaining $1 finds its way into the treasury of the nation. The speaker here dwelt upon the extravagance of the Republican administrations and said that at the present rate of dishonoring money Taft at the end of his term would have expended more than the Civil War cost and in addition as much as it cost to run the government for scores of years previous.

Turning his attention to State affairs ex-Gov. Glenn compared the records of the two parties in the State. He pointed to the misrule of the two Republican administrations and called attention to the fact that during the last Republican rule there were many negro officials appointed by the administration to rule over the white people of the State. He then pointed to the growth of the State under the Democratic administrations and compared conditions. And why should we change, he asked. We know what we have now and if the Republicans get in power have we any guarantee they will not do as they have done heretofore.

The Republicans are centering all their attention on the Legislature and Supreme court, he said. Why do they want a Legislature and Supreme court? he asked. Because Butler wants to be named as Senator and he wants the court to declare the constitutional amendment disfranchising illiterate negro and white voters unconstitutional so he can use these votes and lastly he wants the Legislature to say that the act repudiating the sealawag bonds was not justifiable and the bonds should be paid and then the court can approve of the action of the Legislature. Then all he will have to do is to get some state to bring suit and the United States Supreme court will say to North Carolina "your Legislature says the bonds should be paid and your court says so, therefore the constitutional amendment repudiating those bonds was unconstitutional and the bonds will have to be paid." That's what Butler wants, declared Gov. Glenn.

The speaker did not attack Butler's record or character, saying that he felt that Judge Adams, Judge Pritchard and other prominent Republicans had said enough bad things about him. The record of the Republican party in the State will kill it, he said, and Butler's record added will make matters only worse as that in itself is enough to damn any party.

Ex-Gov. Glenn is a fine illustrator and throughout his speech he kept his audience in the best of humor, each joke being applied with telling effect. His speech was entertaining throughout, despite the fact that it was along political lines. He spoke for two hours, but his audience would have listened longer had he cared to talk. And the thoughts were so brought out that they left a fine and lasting impression on his hearers.

WILL GOOBER CONQUER

THE BOLL WEEVIL?

Judge Pipkin, of Texas, Says It Will—Also Convert Cotton Mills Into Peanut Mills.

New Orleans, Nov. 1.—Will the goober conquer the boll weevil? And will the cotton mills of the weevil ridden belt be turned into peanut oil manufacturing?

Judge L. M. Pipkin, of San Antonio, Texas, the owner of a large plantation in St. James Parish, Louisiana, answers both questions affirmatively. Judge Pipkin, who arrived here last night declares that peanut production is the salvation of the cotton planter who suffers from the ravages of the weevil. He says the hilly lands infested with the boll weevil will yield per acre from 20 to 65 bushels of peanuts valued at $1 per bushel and that the peanut may be easily disposed of at from $12 to $15 a ton. He says these lands will not yield more than $20 to the acre in cotton.

Judge Pipkin stated that peanut oil is sold principally in Europe for a better price than olive oil and that the peanut oil cake is an excellent stock food.

"Many cotton mills in the boll weevil district," he said, "are converting their plants into peanut mills, where the oil and meal are manufactured."

A feature in connection with the peanut industry which the judge said must not be overlooked is the fact three years culture of peanuts in the present cotton fields will drive out the boll weevil.

JAPAN IN WORD AND ON CANVAS

Subject of Mr. Johnson's Second Lecture.

Large Audience At West Market Street Methodist Church Last Evening—Foundations For Fret Names of Japan. Explained—The Views Diversified and Most Interesting—Subject of Lecture Tonight Will Be Korea—Public Invited.

West Market Street church was crowded last night to listen to the lecture by Mr. Cameron Johnson on Japan, in which land he served for some years as a missionary.

Mr. Johnson is prompt in beginning at 7:45 and as what he says is worth hearing his audience grew early.

The solid foundations for the fret names of Japan first claimed the lecturer's attention. "The Island Empire," it numbers a full thousand islands, four of which have an area greater than all the others put together.

"The Sunrise Kingdom," Japan is the first nation every day of the ages upon which the sun shines. Favored with a solar preeminence it takes the lead in thought and practice throughout the Orient.

"The Nation of the Mikado," all that people are taught a passion of patriotism rarely found under other flags. "The School Master of Nations" Japan has disciplined China and Russia with rods of steel; has outlined the policy of Siam, and has inspired the Hindoo with the hope of "India for the Indian."

No mean showing was made by the industrial, educational and commercial achievements of the Japs who have lines of steamers plying from the northern limit of navigation to the southern. Their steamer lines extend east as far as San Francisco, and are successful competitors with European lines as far west as London.

Mr. Johnson deems Japan the loveliest of all lands, and the Japanese in exterior the nearest ideal of any people of his acquaintance but assured all of their deep sense of need of a religion that would save the individual from waste and the nation from failure.

Mr. Johnson then showed a series of stereopticon views which were considered by many the finest of the sort they had ever seen—portraits, home scenes, architecture, parks, but best of all flowers and children.

There remains two lectures of this series, the one tonight on Korea and that tomorrow night on India. No admission is charged but a silver offering is requested in order that the Laymen's Movement may not be burdened with the expense of this privilege to learn from one who speaks first hand.

It is hoped even greater crowds may avail themselves of the lecture tonight at 7:45 in West Market Street Methodist church. All are cordially invited.

MARY GARDEN'S FAD.

It is Not Marriage This Time, But Merely The Near-Trousers Idea.

New York Times.

Mary Garden is not married, it has now come out, but—

She is expecting the visit of a young Turk—last year it was a Russian—about Christmas time, and it is not at all unlikely, she admits herself, that this time she will become Madame.

Miss Garden departed for the West on Friday. She is to gladden Chicago with a view of her Melisande next Saturday afternoon.

She was wearing on this occasion, it should be noted, no less than a pair of trousers—perhaps in honor of the Turk. The material was blue velvet, and to the unpracticed and unobservant eye it might have appeared that she was wearing a skirt which perhaps flared in around the ankles a bit more than the ordinary skirt.

This skirt, however, proved to be fastened between the ankles.

In fact, there were only two tiny slits through which the feet and a part of a black silk skirt might tentatively peep. Perhaps, on the whole, "trousers" is not the correct term in which to describe this extraordinary garment. It should rather be spoken of as a bag with two holes at the bottom. For the dividing line that demarcates trousers from top to bottom was not in evidence.

"Doubt made this," she said, "and almost dared me to wear it. He said that it was the first garment of the sort to leave the Place Vendome. It seems to me a particularly appropriate garment in which to visit Belmont Park, for I am going to see the aeroplane flights this afternoon."

"Are you going to fly?" she was asked. "Mercy, no, I wouldn't go up into the air for worlds. There are too many things I want to do on solid earth before I take any chances flitting with death. For instance, I want to make my Chicago debut as Melisande next Saturday."

"This year, if you please, I am an humble pensionnaire. If I am told to sing Salome on Monday, I do so; the same if I am told to sing Marguerite on Friday. I have no preferred roles; I do exactly as I am told."

Not only this, but none of the parts in my repertoire belong exclusively to me. Miss Lillian Grenville, or anybody else whom the management wishes, may sing Thais. Miss Marguerite Sylva has already announced her intention of singing Salome. All these things are no concern of mine for the time being. I shall do, I reiterate, exactly as I am told—and doubtless the others will, too. However the following season may see a difference—a very great difference. It's too early yet to make predictions or to tell what I intend doing, but—"

Miss Garden smiled a particularly elusive smile and sank back in her chair. "Perhaps you are going to sing Siegfried."

"Not yet; not until I am 48!"

"You should sing it now," urged the reporter.

"Mamma," cried Miss Garden to her admiring parent, who was also in the room, "did you hear what he said?"

Both Speedy and Effective. This indicates the action of Foley Kidney Pills as S. Parsons, Battle Creek, Mich., illustrates: "I have been afflicted with a severe case of kidney and bladder trouble for which I found no relief until I used Foley Kidney Pills. The steady use of Foley Kidney Pills rid me entirely of all my former troubles. They have my highest recommendation." Howard Gardner.

SCIENTIFIC PLAN TO KILL OFF THE HOUSEFLY.

Prof. Hodge, Biologist at Clark University, Turns Garbage Can Into a Trap. Boston, Oct. 30.—A plan to kill off the housefly, that bearer of germs and special dispenser of typhoid fever, is advanced by Prof. Clifton D. Hodge, biologist at Clark University, Worcester.

"My idea is to have a flytrap attached to garbage can covers," he says. "In my trap I have the cover of the can purposely made loose and too large by about an inch all around. The cover is pierced by a hole into which is set the trap. The flies enter the can through crevices around the cover, and when they have eaten they leave by the place through which the light comes, and this is the hole on which the trap is set. In the recent fly season I caught 2,500 flies in fifty-five minutes with one of these traps."

"Another line of attack aims to catch all flies around the stable cellar. The cellar or pit should be built tight except for one window which is screened with the screen opening at the top into two traps, one leading outward and the other inward."

"The outward opening trap catches the flies that have been hatched in the stable and are seeking to go out into the open air, and the inward opening trap catches the flies that are trying to get into the dark, filth laden cellar to lay eggs in the material which is their natural incubator."

Not Sorry for Blunder.

"If my friend hadn't blundered in thinking I was a doomed victim of consumption, I might not be alive now," writes D. T. Sanders, of Harrodsburg, Ky., "but for years they saw every attempt to cure a lung-racking cough fail. At last I tried Dr. King's New Discovery. The effect was wonderful. It soon stopped the cough and I am now in better health than I have had for years. This wonderful life-saver is an unrivaled remedy for coughs, colds, lagrippe, asthma, croup, hemorrhages, whooping cough or weak lungs. 50c., $1.00. Trial bottle free. Please accept thanks." Howard Gardner.

Saves an Iowa Man's Life.

The very grave seemed to yawn before Robert Madsen, of West Burlington, Iowa, when, after seven weeks in the hospital, four of the best physicians gave him up. Then was shown the marvelous curative power of Electric Bitters. For, after eight months of frightful suffering from liver trouble and yellow jaundice, getting no help from other remedies or doctors, five bottles of this matchless medicine completely cured him. ## A BAG OF GOLF CLUBS.

They Picture In a Way the Various Phases of Human Society.

Devotees of the links will be interested to learn that, in the opinion of a Philosophical student of their ancient game, a bag of golf clubs is a symbolical epitome of human society.

In the front rank you have the driver, smooth, polished, elegant, the aristocrat of the circle, to whose lot falls the showy role in the day's performance, who disdains to play his part on the level of his fellows, and must have his sphere of operations artificially raised above the plane of the common earth. The brassy is your rich commoner, substituting a barrier of metal for the tee that confers rank on his social superior. After these come the humbler cleeks, lofters and mashies, the common herd, who, like the butchers, shoemakers, and tillers of the ground among human beings, have the bulk of the work to do, and can afford no polish save what comes from keeping themselves clean, which at times is no easy task. Apart from them all stands the niblick, the good Samaritan of golf, resorted to only when the player is in a serious difficulty. The function of the niblick is to aid the golfer in the day of trouble, and his destiny, after having done his duty in that state of life, is to be relegated to the limbo of forgetfulness.—Argonaut.

AN ALGERIAN HOTEL.

The Attempt to Describe its Attractions in English.

Things are not always as they seem, even in an advertisement. This truth dawned upon Robert Crawford when he was in Algiers, and he tells of the reason for his conclusion in "Reminiscences of Foreign Travel." Mr. Crawford, not being satisfied with his lodgings, procured a copy of the Journal des Etrangers and proceeded to look up a hotel.

After a patient investigation the choice seemed to lie between two. One, according to the notice, possessed "every English comfort" and had "large" as well as small apartments. The other—and I was strongly drawn to it—advertised as follows:

Elr Glass House.

Full South.

Mis of large Parc.

Tramways to and from town every 10 minutes.

I found the place. To my surprise there was no conservatory or glass house of any kind and no fir trees. As I pondered over the fact the solution suddenly came to me—it was a "first class house," of course. What of the rest of the advertisement? The hotel had a southern aspect and was situated in a park. As for the tramway, that was pure fiction.

Such a Bore to Dress.

A belated traveler who was compelled to stay all night in a backwoods cabin says that soon after the frugal meal a tall, gaunt youth of eighteen and an equally sallow and gaunt girl of seventeen, both barefooted, took their hats from wooden pegs in the wall and prepared to go out, whereupon the mother, taking her pipe from between her teeth, said reprovingly:

"Go 'long an' wash your face, Levi—go and Looey, both! Hain't you 'shamed to go off to an evenin' party without washin' your face?" They obeyed, but as Levi took the washpan from a bench by the door he said with a grumble:

"I'd 'bout as soon stay home from a party as to have to fix up for it."

Diving Birds.

Water birds which are ordinarily able to float high on the water can also sink at will by expelling the air which is inclosed within the film of feathers surrounding their bodies, thus making them heavier than water. This mechanical trick on the part of diving birds is probably familiar to all who have watched the kingfisher at close quarters and have noted the sudden contraction in the bird's apparent size as it takes the plunge. This is much more easily observed in the case of the starling, which sometimes imitates the kingfisher by plunging into water for food. The shrinkage of the bird in apparent size is very apparent when, after hovering above the surface, it turns downward to dive.—Zoologist.

The Teletale.

A college girl told how she had been cured of the ugly habit, when a little girl, of sticking out her tongue when writing. She was working on a writing lesson one day when the teacher called to her the full length of the room:

"Mary you are making capital L's when I asked for capital P's." "How did you know that I was wrong?" the little girl asked.

"I could tell," said the teacher, "by your tongue."—Detroit Free Press.

The hobble skirt, says the Columbia State, is not believed to be painful. But it surely must be uncomfortable!

That was a rousing audience that assembled to hear ex-Governor Glenn last night. Every one understands that when Glenn talks the fur flies and as everybody likes to behold a busy scene the folks turn out in numbers to hear the former Governor. It is needless to say that Governor Glenn made a fine effort; he always does that.

A desperate effort is being made by the Republicans to prevent Judson Harman from carrying the State of Ohio. Four cabinet officers have been ordered to the Buckeye State to help in the losing fight that the Republicans are waging. Perhaps the great concern of the administration over the result in Ohio has something to do with the President's desire for a second nomination. Should the Ohio Republicans recapture the Governorship from the Democrats, Ohio being the President's home State, Taft's chances in 1912 would of course be materially improved.

That is a most interesting story that comes from Washington to the effect that Chairman Morehead is thinking of throwing Marion Butler overboard. Should he do it, of course the Butlerites would all be estranged. Should he not do it, the Butler-haters would all remain estranged. But to say that it would be a case of six of one and a half dozen of the other, as the saying goes, would be to view the matter superficially. If Mr. Morehead believes that the ex-Senator deserves to be bounced, he should do his duty, let the results be what they may. But has the Republican chairman the courage to hew to the line?

The following is a part of a campaign speech made in New York recently by an East Side boy:

Fellow citizens, I earnestly ask you to vote for my father. He is very kind to my mother and has been a good father to me and my brothers and sisters. My father is a poor man, while the fellow who is running against him has got money to burn. Please vote for the poor man. My father was a peddler on the east side and he has had to work hard all his life.

We like that speech. It is frank and thoroughly intelligible. The boy that is loyal to "dad" will always command respect. And we judge that the father in this case is worthy of the loyalty of the son. "He is very kind to my mother and has been a good father to me and my brothers and sisters." We hope this candidate "lands."

"Mack sees a landslide," says The Evening Post. He evidently got the habit in the landslide campaigns of 1900, 1904 and 1908."—New York Tribune. Yet there is more behind Norman Mack's vision this year than habit. He, as National Chairman of his party, was hopeful in 1908, predicting victory. He based his expectations on the belief that the people of the country would be wise enough to vote for the people's interest. There he was deceived. But hundreds of thousands of voters who then supported the Republican ticket now know they voted unwisely. There is open revolt in many States; that The Tribune knows. And that landslide which Mr. Mack sees coming is feared by The Tribune as it has not been feared before. Republicans feel in their bones that it is coming—Columbia State.

The Republican must be blind who cannot see that his party is in bad shape this year. The Insurgents and the Progressives have been at each other's throats for a year or more. Teddy Roosevelt is splitting the party wide open in New York and to a greater or less extent in every State in the union.

On the other hand, the Democrats are more nearly united than they have been in many years. Everywhere they are putting their best foot forward. Any unprejudiced person will tell you that if this isn't a Democratic year then there is no judging by the signs.

LANDSLIDE FOR WILSON

New Jersey Without a Parallel For the Present Campaign.

Newark, N. J., Nov. 1.—If the campaign in New Jersey ends in a Democratic victory—and there is every indication that such will be the result—it will be wholly due to the remarkable personality and fight made by one man—Woodrow Wilson, the Democratic candidate for Governor. Regardless of who nominated him, and how, he will owe his election solely to himself, and it will be conceded that his own efforts have brought it about. And this will be more true of him than of any other candidate who has ever been elected to office in the State. New Jersey, the mother of the trusts, the vehicle for the "joy-riding corporations," the home and shelter of the "interests," is apparently upon the threshold of a new political era. Its political conscience has been stirred; its people aroused; its sluggish blood quickened, and if Wilson is elected it will cross that threshold and the new era will begin.

Everybody in New Jersey politics on both sides knows that this is so, and the State is without a parallel for the present campaign. Democrats and Republicans alike admit that Dr. Wilson, the former president of Princeton University, the scholar in politics, the man of learning and culture, of independent thinking and force, has made a wonderful fight, unlike and more effective than that made by any other New Jersey candidate that can be recalled. The idea of the politicians that mass meetings are necessary to arouse enthusiasm and dispel apathy, but that they do not make votes, has been shattered by the Democratic candidate for Governor.

The speeches of Dr. Wilson in this fight have made votes and his opponents concede this to be true. How many cannot be told until they are counted, but conservative Democratic observers estimate Dr. Wilson's plurality at not less than 20,000 and actually expect a whole lot more than this. It is true that for the first time since 1892, when Cleveland last ran for the Presidency, the Democratic party in New Jersey is imbued with life, hope and confidence. For the first time in more than 15 years the Democratic managers see victory in their grasp, and for the first time in a long period the Republican party is scared and demoralized. These conditions actually exist in New Jersey and they are unquestionably due to the character of the man the Democrats have named for Governor and the kind of campaign he has made. If he is elected the State will be redeemed from its long years of Republican control and he will beyond doubt loom large as a Democratic Presidential possibility two years hence.

The acceptance of this fact makes the contest here second only in interest to the big battle in New York.

The reason why the speeches of Dr. Wilson have made votes, while those of his opponent, Vivian Lewis, who is also a high-grade, able man, have had no more than the usual effect of enflaming his own followers without adding to them, was explained by a well known Republican leader in this way:

"Wilson," he said, "has this advantage. His business or profession—whatever you like to call it—for a great many years has been that of taking the ideas out of his own head and sinking them into the minds of other people. All his life he has been accustomed to telling an audience of students what he knows and making them believe it. To use a by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by Catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

stage phrase, his trade has been to 'put it across the footlights,' and in doing this he is wonderfully successful. As a college professor it has been his business to make clear to an audience the thought in his own mind and to convince them that it is right. All his life he has been trained to do this. He knows how. This training, combined with his great ability, his tact and a sort of natural talent for campaigning, has made him just about the best and most effective campaigner I have ever seen. He is the only man I have ever seen who can make a political speech that changes votes. Just as I say, he 'puts it across the footlights.' This has been his trade, and he certainly mastered it."

DOUBTS OUR SECURITIES

England Will Not Invest Until After Elections.

New York, Nov. 1.—Robert J. Wynne, who was American consul general in London during Roosevelt's administration, and who is now in business over there as the representative of several American concerns, arrived in the metropolis en route to Washington today. He said that in London there is just now no business in American investments, and the outlook in such, from a London view, seems poor for the next year.

"Outside of timber lands, Englishmen are not putting money into American investments," said Mr. Wynne, "and those timber lands they are going to are really in Canada, particularly in British Columbia. They have made up their minds that there will be more or less of uncertainty in the United States for at least a year, so far as business goes, and there will be a period of waiting to see what is going to happen. As for mining and other interests, the English will keep out of them until the results of political developments of the next 12 months become apparent.

"The one subject that is interesting everybody in England just now, particularly those Americans who have to live over there and have been under the impression that it is cheap, is the extraordinarily high price of food nowadays. The subject has been much discussed, and the only reason assigned to account for it at all is the overproduction of gold, which is lessening the purchasing power of the gold sovereign. A tariff could not account for it, because England is a free-trade country, and it is suffering just as much as highly protected France and Germany.

"As for conditions in London, they have greatly improved in the last two years. There are fewer unemployed, and the exports and imports of the country are increasing."

Mr. Wynne said he had come over on account of the illness of a son in Washington, and also to have at his home in Washington the first family reunion of his family in six years. He expects to remain until after New Year.

BROKE BAR OF HIS CELL DOOR

Negro Thief Makes Desperate Attempt To Escape From City Calaboose—Chance Entrance of Officer Prevented Frank King From Getting Out Yesterday Afternoon.

Only the timely and chance entrance of a policeman yesterday afternoon prevented the escape of Frank King, colored, from the city calaboose where he was confined awaiting a hearing before Judge Euse this morning. King was arrested yesterday morning by Officer Jeffreys on the charge of stealing certain articles from the residence of Mr. Andrew Joyner. As he could not give bond King was locked up pending a hearing this morning.

Yesterday afternoon about 3:30 o'clock King's mother appeared at the police station and asked to see the prisoner. Officer McFarland was detailed to show her around to the calaboose and when he entered the lock to King's cell was lying on the floor with a short piece of the door rod attached. King was standing with his back to the door, but the broken rod was noted at once. When confronted with the fact that he was trying to get away the negro confessed.

He said that he had taken a nail from his water bucket and made a hook with which he had secured a rod out of another door which was not locked. With the rod he had pried off the lock to his door and was preparing to open the door and walk out when the officer entered. In a few minutes he would have been outside his cell and with the rod would have doubtless forced his way through the outside door after which it would have been an easy matter to have gotten outside the building.

He was placed in another cell and the rods in the other door locked so they could not be taken out easily.

CARRIE NATION BOBS UP

She Breaks Up a Card Game Before Speech At Pocomoke.

Pocomoke, Md., Oct. 31.—Carrie Nation's here.

She arrived early, unexpectedly and enthusiastically. She's been busy ever since. Princess Anne is warned, for she's going there tomorrow.

"Quite an excitement" resulted when tidings of her arrival spread. By word of mouth, by messengers, by telephone and in every other way town tidings get about the news was circulated. Soon she had hired the opera house.

Just what went on inside isn't completely told. The meeting was for women only. But tonight husbands of Women's Christian Temperance Union women and other husbands of women who don't belong to the union, but who didn't miss the chance, are wondering about all she said. And they wonder if they've heard all, for some stories are being told.

Mrs. Nation got in last night. The Women's Christian Temperance Union leaders helped her arrange a meeting. The women had it all to themselves. She told many experiences. Everybody knows her title, "How I Smash Them." Some women repeated her story of "How I Broke Up a Game of Cards Played by Bald-Headed Men." It was a local tale, her most recent experience, and the city clamors for names. The men hope they weren't recognized.

Tonight for the small sum of one dime (10 cents) she told the "why" of her crusade. She talked right plain.

WANTS SABBATH LAWS OBSERVED

President of North Carolina Sabbath Convention Urges Formation of Local Committees For That Purpose—Character Issued—Miss Keith In Serious Condition—Street Car Company Wins Out In Damage Suit.

Raleigh, Nov. 1.—The fifth annual convention of the North Carolina Lord's Day Alliance adjourned tonight after an eloquent address by Dr. D. Clay Lilly, of Richmond, on "The Sabbath and the Forward Movement." The morning and afternoon sessions were taken with able addresses, one by Dr. J. C. Leonard, Lexington on "The Sabbath—a Day of Worship," and an address by Dr. Clarence G. Reynolds, of Asheville, on "The Ethics of the Daily Press." Last night President Campbell, of Asheville made an appeal for the formation of local committees in all the towns of the state to have an eye to seeing that Sunday laws are observed. He advised that the "big stick" be used freely whenever there are movements for Sabbath violation. He illustrated the fights that should be made by saying that in his city, Asheville, they have a contest on now as to whether Sousa's Band shall be allowed to give a so-called "sacred concert" there in the afternoon of Sunday, December 4. He says it is the purpose of the local committee to have Sousa and his band arrested in the event they persist in coming to Asheville for a Sunday engagement.

The Henderson Garage Co., capital $4,500 was chartered today with J. C. Skinner and others as incorporators for a general automobile business. Another charter is to the Cooper Guano Co., Wilmington, capital $100,000 by W. B. Cooper and others.

Raleigh society is awaiting with keen interest the McKimmon-Norris wedding in Christ Episcopal church Wednesday evening at 6 o'clock when Miss Willa Norris is to become the bride of Mr. Chas. McKimmon. Both are very prominent and popular socially.

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Keith, of Wilmington, are here to be with their daughter, Miss Adeline, who was so terribly burned Sunday afternoon in her room at Meredith College through the igniting of a can of alcohol that she was using with a chafing dish. Miss Keith continues in very serious condition. So much so that it is thought by the physicians that it will require two weeks to determine just what her prospects of recovery are. It develops that she did not really inhale any flames, a pillow having been pressed about her face while her clothing was ablaze. One side and an arm and hand are very badly burned. There is a development of considerable swelling.

After the Superior court had devoted a day and a half to the trial of Lambert vs. Carolina Light and Power Co. the jury today returned a verdict in favor of the street car company. The suit was by M. Ashby Lambert for $5,000 damages for being injured by being thrown from his bicycle through the street car track being too high above the street at the corner of Blount and Edenton streets. The jury held that Mr. Lambert knew of the conditions there and failing to exercise precaution, he was guilty of contributory negligence. Mr. Lambert is attorney for the Raleigh Merchant's Association.

Thief Gets Seventeen Dollars.

Between seven and eight o'clock Monday night some one entered the residence of Mr. R. L. Woodard on Arlington street and took $17 from the trunk of Miss Bessie Williams, a boarder.

Marbles.

Marbles got their name from the fact that originally little bits of marble were rolled down the hills and rounded and pounded by other stones until they became toys for the children to play with. It is said that the Dutch exported them to England. Whether they did or not makes little difference to the boys and girls of today. No matter who introduced the world to marbles as toys, they are with us and always will be. Some of you get them from other children, some of you trade postage stamps for them, but some persons originally bought them from the little store around the corner, whose owner got them from the greatest toyshop in the world—Germany. In the beginning marbles were called "bowls," and men and women played with them as well as children.—Dundee Advertiser.

A Tree Cut Down by Rifle Bullets.

In the sanguinary annals of the American war there was no more sanguinary episode than the fight in 1864 of "The Bloody Angle at Spottsylvania." "Every bush and every sapling that constituted the thicket there," says Mr. G. C. Eggleston in his "History of the Confederate War," "was cut away by a stream of bullets as grass is before a mower's scythe. Even an oak tree nearly two feet thick was worn in two near its base by the continual and incessant stroke of leaden balls until it fell, crushing some of the Confederates who were fighting beneath its branches."

A Neat Compliment.

That was a neat compliment paid by a French ambassador in London to a peeress who had been talking to him for an hour.

The lady said, "You must think I am very fond of the sound of my own voice." The Frenchman replied, "I knew you liked music."

How many times has each of us heard this or similar expression! If we go around much we hear it nearly every day. And yet so few of us really take it to heart.

BRIGHT'S DISEASE

Late estimates on the percentage of recoveries under the new emollient treatment of Bright's Disease are as follows:

Where patient is much weakened and crisis may be expected in from five to ten days, probably not more than 10 per cent to 20 per cent recover. Where physicians aid with efforts to restrain fatal symptoms this percentage is increased. In cases where patients have from thirty to sixty days of life the efficiency is very much higher.

Where patients do not wait until bed-ridden probably three-fourths yield. And in cases that take the new emollient treatment on the appearance of the disease nearly nine out of ten respond.

Albumen Casts and dropsy do not prevent recovery. The point is that the Renal inflammation should be attacked before the heart and physical system are broken down.

The new emollient treatment is known as Fulton's Renal Compound. It can be had in Greensboro at the Fariss-Klutz Drug Co.

We desire every patient to write us who is not noting the usual improvement by the third week. Literature mailed free. Jno. J. Fulton Co., 645 Battery St., San Francisco, Cal. We invite correspondence with physicians who have obstinate cases.

HOW TO CURE RHEUMATISM

It Is An Internal Disease And Requires An Internal Remedy.

The cause of rheumatism and kindred diseases is an excess of uric acid in the blood. To cure this terrible disease this acid must be expelled and the system so regulated that no more acid will be formed in excessive quantities. Rheumatism is an internal disease and requires an internal remedy. RUBBING with Oils and Liniments WILL NOT CURE, affords only temporary relief at best, causes you to delay the proper treatment, and allows the malady to get a firmer hold on you. Liniments may ease the pain, but they will no more cure Rheumatism than paint will change the fiber of rotten wood.

Science has at last discovered a perfect and complete cure, which is called Rheumacide. Tested in hundreds of cases, it has effected the most marvelous cures; we believe it will cure you. Rheumacide gets at the joints from the inside, sweeps the poisons out of the system, tones up the stomach, regulates the liver and kidneys and makes you well all over. Rheumacide strikes the root of the disease and removes its cause. This splendid remedy is sold by druggists and dealers generally at 50c. and $1 a bottle. In Tablet form at 25c. and 50c. a package. Write to Bobbitt Chemical Co., Baltimore, Md. Booklet free. Tablets sent by mail.

SNEEZE BEATS SURGEONS IN GETTING BULLET OUT.

Man With Knife Ready to Slice Willie's Nose, When Suddenly "Katchoo!" Does Trick.
New York World.

Three surgeons bent over Willie Roth, four and a half years old, as he lay Saturday night on the operating table in Har Moriah Hospital, Second street and Avenue C Willie stared wide eyed at them.

"I have located the bullet right here," said a doctor, touching one side of Willie's nose to indicate the exact position of the leaden pellet.

"Katchoo! Katchoo!" sneezed Willie. Something dropped on the floor and rolled under the table. A surgeon picked up a bullet and said: "I guess the sneeze performed the operation." Willie was sent to his home at No. 135 Pitt street.

When the youngster was playing in the street near his home on Saturday afternoon another boy placed a cartridge on the car tracks. A car wheel struck it, there was a report, and Willie fell, screaming with pain. He was carried to the hospital, where it was found the bullet had lodged in his nose. He was playing tag about his home yesterday after he left Har Moriah.

Trouble For the Tourists.

There is a story on record of three Irishmen rushing away from the race meeting at Punchestown to catch a train back to Dublin. At the moment a train from a long distance pulled up at the station, and the three men scrambled in. In the carriage was seated one other passenger. As soon as they had regained their breath one said:

"Pat, have you got th' tickets?"

"What tickets? I've got me loffe! I thought I'd have lost that gettin' in th' thrain. Have you got 'em, Molke?"

"Oh? Begorra, I haven't!"

"Oh, we're all done for, thin!" said the third. They'll charge us right from th' other side of Oireland."

The old gentleman looked over his newspaper and said:

"You are quite safe, gentlemen. Wait till we get to th' next station."

As soon as the train pulled up the little gentleman jumped out and came back with three first class tickets. Handing them to the astonished strangers, he said: "Whist! I'll tell you how I did it! I went along th' thrain. Tickets, please; tickets, please!" I called, and these belong to three Saxon tourists in another carriage."

Banks on the Lookout.

A merchant in a large city allowed his name to be posted in his club three times for nonpayment of dues. A few days after the last posting he applied to his bank for a loan. When the application came up to the bank's credit man—that newest of a bank's important officials—he pulled out the customer's history card.

The latest entry was one typewritten sentence, "Does not pay his club dues: three times delinquent." The loan was refused. The merchant was either careless, near broke or unappreciative of his credit standing. Any of these reasons looked bad to the banker.

Business men do not realize how closely their banks watch them—how much the banks are bound to know about their affairs, how much seemingly small things in their daily lives affect credit, and big things that they sometimes want to conceal too.—System Magazine

Eddystone Island.

The smallest inhabited island in the world is that on which the Eddystone lighthouse stands. At low water it is thirty feet in diameter. At high water the lighthouse, whose diameter at the base is eight and three-fourths feet, completely covers it. It is inhabited by three persons. It lies nine miles off the Cornish coast and fourteen miles southeast of Plymouth breakwater. Flattholme, an island in the British channel, is only a mile and a half in circumference, but, consisting mostly of rich pasture lands, supports a farmhouse besides the lighthouse, with a revolving light 156 feet above the sea. There are about 100,000 islands, large and small, scattered over the oceans. America alone has 5,500 around its coasts. There are 365 in the bay of Rio Janeiro, 16,000 between Madagascar and India and some 1,200 off the eastern coast of Australia between its mainland and New Guinea.

ASCRIBE DEATH TO A PIN.

Swallowed in 1880, Doctors Say it Was Finally Fatal to Miss Shaw.

New York World.

When Miss Mary Elizabeth Shaw of No. 93 Clifton avenue, Newark, was eight years old she swallowed a pin which lodged in her throat, causing her great pain. That was in 1880. Efforts to extract it failed. Four years later, during a fit of coughing, she dislodged it.

A few months ago a swelling appeared in the woman's throat. Physicians agreed it might be the result of the childhood mishap. An operation was performed in St. John's Hospital, and a short time afterward Miss Shaw died. She was buried yesterday in Fairmount Cemetery. Miss Shaw, a member of the Peddle Memorial Baptist Church, was widely known for her charities.

People who say just what they think are more numerous than popular.

A woman seldom puts off till tomorrow what she can wear today.

"FLETCHERISM"

The habit of chewing one's food until it becomes almost liquefied and swallowed involuntarily, and eating certain foods at certain times of the day is called "Fletcherism" after a man named Fletcher who advocates this method as a remedy for indigestion and stomach troubles. While one may get from this system the maximum amount of strength from the minimum amount of food, it is a question as to what extent this principle of living can be applied to the human race as a whole. It is an old and true saying, "What is one man's meat is another man's poison."

There is one thing sure, however, much less distress and much more assimilation of the body-building elements contained in every day food would be experienced by people with poor or impaired digestion if they would only believe what we tell them about Vinol.

There is no mystery about it, or misrepresentation. Vinol simply contains the necessary elements needed to reestablish a normal condition of the digestive system. There is no need of going into the scientific reasons why—it simply does it, that is all.

Thousands of genuine testimonials from reliable people prove this claim, and to further support the fact and prove our faith in what we say, we unhesitatingly declare that any one who will buy a bottle of Vinol for stomach disorder and malassimilation, will have their money returned without question if they are not satisfied that it has done them good. Pariss-Klut Drug Co., Greensboro, N. C.

WOMEN GLARE ACROSS COFFIN.

Death Steps in and Puts End to Divorce Case.

New York, Oct. 31.—The counter-suit for divorce brought by Mrs. Anna V. Robotham and William H. Robotham are ended. Mrs. Robotham attended her husband's funeral Saturday at the home of his mother, Mrs. J. S. Broderick, 434 Third street, Brooklyn.

Seemingly, Mrs. Robotham's presence at the funeral was anticipated, although she and her husband had been at daggers' points for a year. A detective was in the Broderick house during the funeral ceremonies.

Mrs. Robotham, veiled, was seated at one side of her husband's coffin. At the other side sat a public school teacher whom Mrs. Robotham in her suit named as one of several co-respondents. The situation was extremely strained. The women glared at each other. If looks could kill, another casket would have been needed. Finally Oscar Robotham, William's brother, crossed the room to Mrs. Robotham and whispered to her. It was plain he told her not to make a scene.

In his suit William H. Robotham named his brother as one of half a dozen co-respondents. Mrs. Robotham's two children—Grace, about 11 years old, and Lancon, 9—were at the funeral. Since their parents separated the children have been in Mrs. Broderick's care, although their mother sought to regain possession of them by legal process.

After the services Mrs. Robotham found that a carriage had not been ordered to take her to the cemetery.

COLD DINNER FOR HEINZE

Prisoner's Steak and Coffee Kept Too Long.

New York World.
The one Sunday in jail of Arthur P. Heinze, out of the ten days he is spending in the Tombs, was passed in the quietest possible manner. He did not attend service or walk with the other prisoners in the yard.

Heinze had to eat a cold dinner. He has three meals a day sent in from a cafe on Franklin street. They come in a basket, and when the dishes go back the basket contains his order for the following meal. On Sundays the prisoners are allowed to walk from 12 o'clock until 2 and no meals are served between those hours. Therefore, if a basket is brought in after 12 the prisoner must wait until 2 before he gets it. This is what befell Heinze, and as the attendants do not bother to warm the late meals the prisoner had to be satisfied with cold steak, cold coffee and whatever else he ordered.

A Household Medicine.

To be really valuable must show equally good results from each member of the family using it. Foley's Honey and Tar does just this. Whether for children or grown persons Foley's Honey and Tar is best and safest for all coughs and colds. Howard Gardner.

What a Walrus Eats.

Rainwhit, the big walrus presented to the Bronx Park by Harry Whitney and Paul Rainey about a month ago, is worrying Dr. W. Reed Blair, the zoo doctor, by its prodigious appetite. The animal, which is regarded as the finest of its species in captivity, is fed once a day, and its meal is 400 clams and 25 codfish. It takes two men two hours to prepare this meal for Rainwhit, as the fastidious animal insists on having the fish skinned and the clams, of course, removed from the shells. He has gained 28 pounds on this fare since coming to the zoo, a little more than a month ago. The zoo authorities are beginning to wonder how long the supply of clams and fish is going to last at this rate of consumption.

A musk ox which was presented to the zoo at the same time Rainwhit arrived, and by the same donors, died yesterday from an attack of acute indigestion. The climate didn't agree with the young ox, and he got lonesome, Dr. Blair said. —New York Sun.

Hexamethylenetetramine is recognized by medical text books and authorities as a uric acid solvent and anti-septic for the urine. ## MOTHER GETS DAMAGES FROM HER DAUGHTER Younger Woman Must Pay for Winning Stepfather to Be Her Own Husband.

Milwaukee, Nov. 1.—Mrs. Johanna Husselmann was awarded $9,800 damages from her daughter, the wife of Dr. Wilhelm Becker, in the Circuit Court in a $25,000 alienation of affection suit of mother against daughter.

Mrs. Husselmann and Dr. Becker were married in Chicago on March 17, 1900. She was then forty-six years of age. He was thirty-one. She had two daughters. One of them was Mrs. Hattie Bott, twenty-six. Mrs. Bott was then living in St. Paul. Her husband was Dr. Henry C. Bott.

Shortly after the marriage Mrs. Bott came to Milwaukee to visit at the home of her mother and her new stepfather. The result was that on Sept. 29, 1905, Mrs. Becker and her husband separated. On Nov. 3, 1906, Mrs. Becker got a divorce, resuming the name of Husselmann.

On Nov. 9, 1906, Mrs. Bott began suit for divorce from Dr. Bott. She got the divorce Nov. 24, 1907. Five days later, according to testimony, Mrs. Bott and her stepfather were married.

The mother said that her daughter "wilfully, maliciously and wickedly" gained the affections of Dr. Becker and sought to entice him to desert his wife.

Y. M. C. A. CONSIDERS HOW TO SAVE BOY

Discussion on Character Building One of Most Interesting of Convention.

Toronto, Oct. 31.—The best methods to be employed in safeguarding the morals and moulding the character of the boys of a continent, taken up at this afternoon's session of the thirty-seventh annual convention of the Y. M. C. A., proved to be one of the most interesting subjects brought up this year. General discussion of the topic was in charge of Seth Sprague Terry, of New York. Dr. Graham Taylor, of Chicago, spoke on "Saving Them from Delinquency." Industrialism and civic conditions, he said, were sources of delinquency, but above all else every child should enjoy the blessing of being born right.

Colonel W. H. Wakefield, of London, and Ernest Thompson-Seton advocated the Boy Scouts movement as a medium for training character in these days of highly specialized civilization and for saving boys from shiftlessness and ignorance.

"A boy in the tempest years between 14 and 18," said Thompson-Seton, "must be treated through his own instincts. The old idea of never destroying, but directing, a boy's energy is the secret of success."

D. P. Proctor, of New York, spoke on "Safeguarding the Boys from Lack of High Ideals."

CHARGED WITH LARCENY.

Police Have Two Cases Against Robert Kurtzner, Who Says He is From New York.

Policeman Patterson last night locked up a young white man who gives his name as Robert Kurtzner and claims New York as his home. Kurtzner is wanted on two charges of larceny and in addition when arrested he carried a revolver in his pocket.

He stole a knife from Mr. W. J. Sherrod yesterday afternoon and last night gathered in a pipe belonging to Mr. Sam Jones. Both articles were found in his possession and identified by the owners. The police believe that Kurtzner stole the revolver also as the weapon is quite new and had never been loaded.

As the prisoner could not give bond he was locked up to await a hearing before Judge Eure this morning.

estate amounted to about a Million Dollars. Of course he was intimate with many sound financial friends—but he went to a Trust Company and named it as his executor. Why? Because he thought he was going to die, why not his friends die, too, if he appointed them as trustees. He knew that a responsible Trust Company would never die, and that his estate would be properly and safely administered. Being a great lawyer the Chief Justice knew what might happen.
